

Conditions for Use Green Screen

We exercise the utmost care in the creation and development of our Green Screen and use sources that are considered to be reliable. However, we cannot guarantee the exactness, completeness, or the zero-error and/or uninterrupted functioning of Green Screen. You therefore cannot derive any rights from the use of Green Screen.

The user of Green Screen may not convey, reproduce or distribute Green Screen or any part thereof without our express written permission. We are not liable for any improper use of Green Screen or damages which are the result of hardware or software which do not meet the set requirements for use of Green Screen. This information can be found at the 'about-page' of the website of greenscreen.degreengallery.com

You can print or save this document by using the usual functionality of your internet service (= browser: there mostly "file" -> "save as"). You can also download and archive this document in PDF format by clicking here. To open the PDF file you need the free program Adobe Reader (at www.adobe.de) or similar programs, which run the PDF format.

Changes to these conditions

We reserve the right to revise and update the present Conditions of Use. You should therefore consult these conditions regularly to keep up with the changes.